A Sprouting Place For Friends

You know we come, and yet we leave,
Each year's not quite the same.

We laugh, we play, we had some fun,
Among the learning day.

We had our bad days, and our good,
Our sad and happy too.

But most of all, we had a lot,
Of friends to see us through.

We went to concerts, and Mardi Gras,
And the whole gang went too.

We went as everyone should,
As close as two and two.

And yet we leave each year again,
Just in time to say.

"Good-bye to you, My friendly crew,
I'll see you again someday."

And until then, take care my friend,
For we grew as one, this year.

Some loving friends, some teachers too,
In this place of joy and cheer.

By Tracy Mattice,
Rm.23 (7-7)

Smiles

To see some smiles,
For miles and miles,
Is exactly what we need.

But wouldn't it be nice,
No matter what the price,
To have the world so full of smiles.

So if you see that someone's sad,
Delight them, make them glad,
By sharing your smiles.

Kelly Ford

The blank whiteness comes
silently falling, drifting,
snow, unceasing snow

Syd Lancaster

The Purpose

Why am I
on this earth
when the world just doesn't need me?

What purpose have I served
since birth,
on this great and beautiful
Mother Earth?

I've condemned and
polluted,
I've cheated,
I've lied.

I moved in with the natives,
but won't let "them"
survive.

I've killed to live on.
(I live only "til death!)

If nature tries to overpower
me,

I'll suck away her breath.

I'm aggressive
and determined,
and I'm sure that you will find,
me pushing Earth towards
her death.

For you see,
I am
Mankind.

Beryl Rosenzweig

Some Thoughts

Yesterday I had some thoughts,
Of elephants with poka-dots.
They were purple, blue and green,
The funniest sight I've ever seen.
It seemed to me so very funny,
That they were up to making honey.
They fluttered in and out of flowers,
That seemed as big as city towers,
They snuffed their giant trunkly noses,
In the middle of the roses.
Then they ate a hearty meal,
Of honey mixed with purple veal.
They ate and ate till they were fat,
Then they exploded and that was that.

President's Message

This has been a most enjoyable year for me and I'm sure the other 900 students here at Hillcrest think so too. There were a few problems of course, but the outcome of the year, as a whole, was exceptionally good.

It would not have been possible though, if I had not had the help of the Students' Council and Mr. Schalm. They took a great load off the responsibility of being President, as did the many others who were always around with suggestions and help.

So, to the Administration and to the grade 7 and 8 students, look forward to your future years at Hillcrest as fondly as we in grade 9 will be looking back.

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

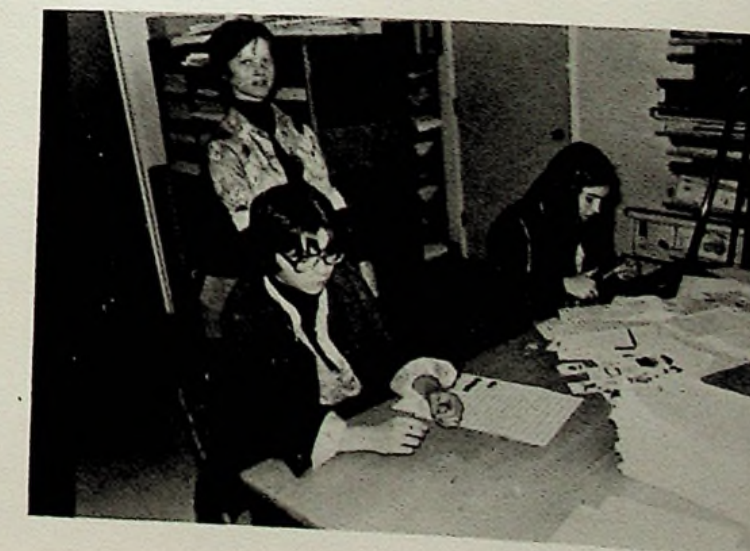

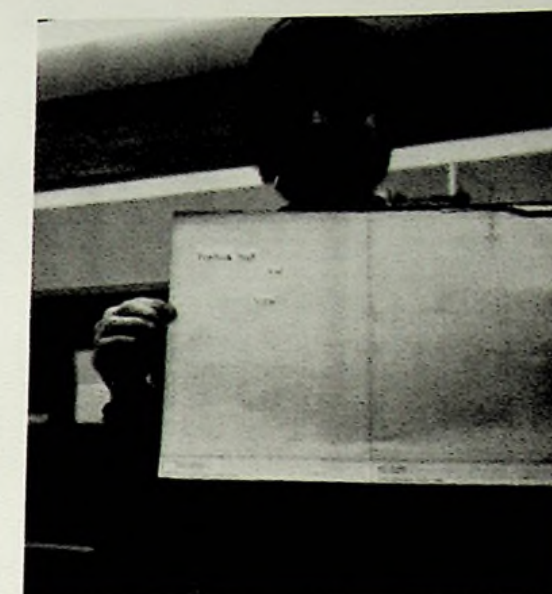

Being the editor of the 1975-76 yearbook has been an unforgettable experience. The creation of a successful yearbook is not an easy task, and I would like to thank my yearbook staff for their effort and dedication. I would like to express my special appreciation to Mr. McDonald, Debbie Batting, and Beryl Rosenzweig; without their help my job would have been impossible.

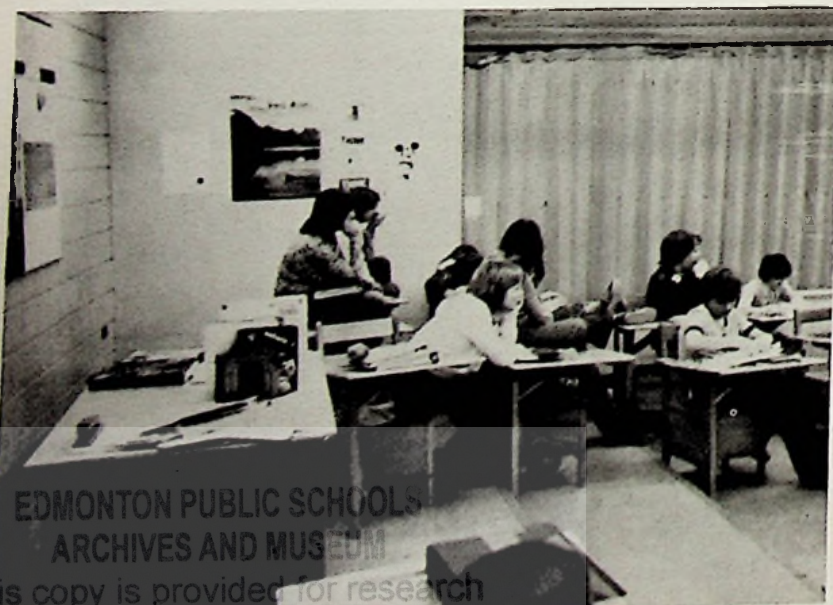

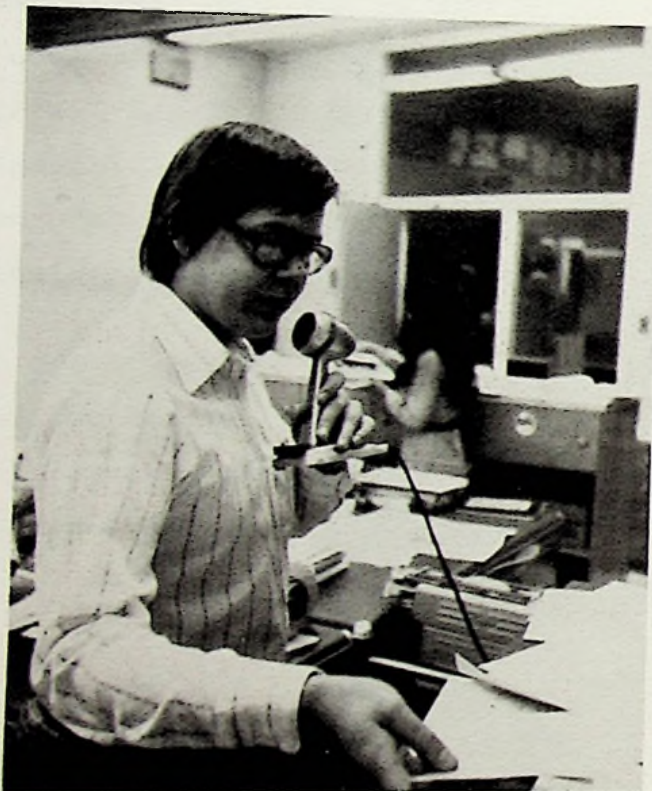

I would just like to say "Good Luck" to next year's editor and yearbook staff. I am confident that the Hillcrest yearbook tradition will be passed on to capable hands.
